

GALLAGHER GETS 12 YEARS

Assailant of Mayor Gaynor Sentenced

JURY OUT 40 MINUTES

Charge on Which He Was Tried and Convicted Was Assault with Intent to Kill "Big Bill" Edwards.

New York, Jan. 5.—James J. Gallagher, who shot Mayor Gaynor last August, was sentenced yesterday to 12 years' imprisonment on his conviction in Jersey City on an indictment charging him with assaulting with intent to kill William H. Edwards, commissioner of street cleaning of New York.

The jury was out 40 minutes and the trial lasted but one day.

In addition, Gallagher will have to stay in jail until the cost of his prosecution has been paid by prison service.

Gallagher showed no emotion when the verdict was read or sentence pronounced.

Two of the men who found Gallagher guilty also served on the jury that Tuesday declared him sane, listening to expert testimony as to his mental condition.

Commissioner Edwards was the chief witness yesterday for the state.

Each side took 15 minutes to sum up. Gallagher's counsel declared that no evidence to show his client had intentionally wounded the commissioner had been brought out. He said the shot was inadvertently fired during the struggle.

ROBIN IN THE TOMBS.

His Bail Fixed at $40,000—He Pleads Not Guilty.

New York, Jan. 5.—Joseph G. Robin, banker and promoter of large undertakings, was lodged in the Tombs yesterday on an indictment charging him with stealing $80,000 from the Washington Savings bank, of which he was president. On his plea of not guilty, bail was fixed at $40,000, which was not furnished.

Robin's counsel, former District Attorney Jerome, made no effort to delay arraignment and offered no defense, but resisted the raising of bail from $25,000, set at the time of the banker's arrest. "This man is without a dollar," the attorney said. "Not a penny of the money alleged to be stolen was applied to his personal benefit. He did not save anything to get away on."

Jerome declared his client had attempted suicide without knowing what the indictment against him charged. "It was due to desperation brought on by physical pain," he said.

Hearing on the petition of Robin's sister, Dr. Louise Robinovitch, to have him declared insane is set for to-day. The banker was subjected yesterday to a trying mental examination by alienists employed by a prosecutor. They made no report of their finding, reserving it for the hearing.

Several friends of the prisoner appeared immediately after his commitment with offers of bail. The district attorney announced that he would take the full 48 hours allowed by law to examine the security offered.

REVOLUTION PLOT FOUND?

Department of Justice Said to Have Unearthed Conspiracy in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—The Record-Herald of yesterday printed the following news article:

"Carefully laid plans of Chicago and New York capitalists, owners of silver and copper mines in northern Mexico and Honduras, to finance the revolutions now in progress in the Central American countries, coupled with the attempted dispatching of two filibustering expeditions into the war zone, have been unearthed in Chicago by the department of justice. More than ten agents of the department are in the city secretly investigating the war plot, and the arrest of several well-known financiers may result, on a charge of violation of the United States neutrality laws. The 'jackpot' fund for financing the revolutions is said to aggregate several million dollars. The appearance in Chicago of Gustavo Madero, brother of Francisco I. Madero, leader of the revolutionists, is said to have brought to a head the government's effort to 'nip' the syndicate's war plans."

Investigation by the secret service bureau of the United States department of justice into "tips" that American financiers are becoming interested in the outcome of Mexican and Central American revolutions never ceases. Such a tip, recently received and seeming to implicate Chicago financiers, has failed so far to materialize.

Bladder Trouble Causes Terrible Pains.

After taking a trial bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which you forwarded to me, I purchased some from a local drug store and after using the trial bottle I can truly say that I was cured of all the terrible pains I had in my back, side and head, caused by bladder trouble. I had the worst kind of kidney trouble and suffered so that I could not even stay in bed with the pain. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root made me feel just like a new person and I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering as I did.

Very truly yours,
MISS MARY ARDNER,

SENATOR ELKINS DIES OF BLOOD POISONING

West Virginia Senator Ill Since Early In the Summer—His Family at the Bedside.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia died at midnight last night. At his bedside were his wife, his daughter, Katherine, and four sons, David, Richard, Stephen and Blaine. Death was due to blood poisoning. He was conscious until within a half hour of death.

Senator Elkins became ill in the early summer at his home at Elkins, W. Va. He was in strict confinement there and only members of his immediate family were allowed to see him. On November 9, when he was removed to Washington in a private car, he was reported considerably improved. Physicians declared that he might possibly be able to take his seat in the Senate at the opening of Congress.

According to the physicians in attendance last night the senator died from a complication of diseases arising from septicemia.

RAYNOR WOULD OUST LORIMER.

He Declares That on Report Illinois Senator Is Not Entitled to a Seat.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Senator Raynor of Maryland, it was learned yesterday, has prepared a legal argument for presentation to the Senate in support of his contention that Senator Lorimer should be unseated. Senator Raynor will treat the subject on its legal aspects, without regard to the morals involved, and expects to demonstrate that by taking the whitewashing report of the committee on privileges and elections as a basis Senator Lorimer is not entitled to his seat in the Senate. According to Senator Raynor, the constitution provides that a senator must receive a majority of the votes of the members elected to the legislature. The Senate committee in absolving Senator Lorimer of the charges made against him, reported that 108 members of the Illinois legislature voted for Lorimer, of which number seven were tainted, four having been bribed and three having given bribes. Eliminating these seven votes, leaves the Lorimer vote at 101. The full roster of the legislature was 202, a majority of which was 102. Senator Lorimer only got 101 votes and Senator Raynor will contend, therefore, that his seat should be declared forfeited.

FOSS VS. LODGE.

Governor-elect Issues Statement in Reply to Senator's Speech.

Boston, Jan. 5.—Senator Lodge's speech in symphony hall Tuesday night was the subject of criticism last night by Governor-elect Foss. Mr. Foss issued a statement, saying in part: "Senator Lodge stands not on the tariff, on reciprocity with Canada, on the income tax, on the direct primary, on the election of United States senators by popular vote, on recall, on the initiative and on the referendum. "And all of these issues are what the election was fought and won on in Massachusetts this fall. During the campaign this fall he evaded all these issues. We now see that he is opposed to every one of them and if he had been a candidate before the people this fall he would have been overwhelmingly defeated. He knows it, and, for the life of me, I do not see how he can offer himself as a candidate for the Senate under the circumstances."

CANADA AT WASHINGTON.

Six Cabinet Ministers There This Week On Business.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—The Canadian cabinet invaded Washington this week. Six members left here for Washington on Thursday. Their missions vary, and while only two are authorized to take part in the reciprocity negotiations, the others will be fully informed and consulted.

The ministers who are to resume the reciprocity negotiations are Mr. Patterson, minister of customs, and Mr. Fielding, minister of finance. The other ministers who are going to Washington are Mr. Brodeur, minister of marine and fisheries; Sir A. E. Aylesworth, minister of justice; George P. Graham, minister of railways and labor; MacKenzie King, minister of war. Each of these three has business at Washington connected with his department.

Jordan Little Moved.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 5.—Chester M. Jordan of Somerville, convicted of murdering his wife, Honora, two years ago, manifested no emotion when informed yesterday that the supreme court Tuesday refused to grant him a new trial. Jordan's attorneys began work yesterday upon a writ of error which will be presented to the supreme court of the United States immediately after the date of the execution is set.

PLEADS GUILTY

And Man Concerned in Manchester Counterfeiting Case Sentenced.

Boston, Jan. 5.—Charged with making counterfeit two dollar silver certificates, Antonio Krol of New Bedford entered a plea of guilty when he appeared before Judge Dodge in the United States district court yesterday and was sentenced to two years at hard labor in the federal prison at Atlanta. Krol made the spurious certificates in a farm house in Fair Haven and then sent the counterfeit money to relatives in Manchester, N. H., and New Jersey, who put it into circulation. The relatives were taken into custody by the federal authorities at the same time that Krol was arrested in Fair Haven.

OUTLAW FIGHT UPSETS LONDON

Much Criticism of Means Employed

IN SPECTACULAR BATTLE

With Anarchists—Use of Troops Attacked—Investigations Show Women Were Associated with the Outlaw Band.

London, Jan. 5.—After a day's reflection, the sober thought of London appears to be that the marshaling of a great force of police and military to destroy a little nest of outlaws was a mistake.

A number of provincial papers, too, criticize the authorities sharply. The Manchester Dispatch says that Englishmen have been made to appear ridiculous and that the affair is one which the country will be glad to forget. The impression is gaining ground that the policemen should have dealt with the business without calling upon the soldiers and that the summoning of the horse artillery was a particularly unnecessary move.

Nothing has developed to establish that more than two men held the tenement against several hundred police, two half-companies of Scots Guards from the tower of London, a detachment of horse artillery, with two machine guns and a gattling gun, and a fire brigade, to say nothing of the tens of thousands who lent their moral support, expressed in vociferous cheers.

It was reported that during the night the police had discovered a third body in the ruins, but this is not true. Only two men are known to have been killed.

The extent of the popular excitement aroused by the unprecedented exhibition will be better understood in the light of the fact that the circulation of the local newspapers of last evening and this morning was greater than at any previous time since the critical stages of the Boer war were heralded in the capital. Surprising as it may seem, the papers sold in London far exceeded the number disposed of on the day of King Edward's death.

The presence of the horse artillery, although their guns were not brought into action, seems to irritate many more than any other incident. There is some mystery as to who was responsible for the employment of the military. Home Secretary Winston Churchill, who personally directed the operations of the combined forces during the latter part of the seven hours' battle, is credited generally with having authorized or approved the unusual measures taken.

The police, greatly overworked during the past 48 hours, had their hands full in keeping the street open to traffic, while the detective department pursued its investigation into the Russian anarchist colony with unremitting energy. The claim apparently is established that the building was fired by the desperadoes. It is thought that when the trapped men found their ammunition nearly spent and escape impossible, they set fire to the building and committed suicide.

No papers were found throwing light on the operations of the gang. It is believed they found refuge in the tenement Dec. 29 and that they were befriended by neighbors.

It is established that women were associated with the gang's operations. Three women, believed to have been connected with the crimes, are now in custody.

The casualties reported from Tuesday's battle are five policemen, a sergeant of the Scots Guards and a half dozen spectators wounded by the bullets. Most of them slightly; and two firemen seriously and three firemen slightly injured in the collapse of the burned building.

MR. WALKER IS ELECTED.

Again Named As Speaker of Massachusetts House.

Boston, Jan. 5.—For the first time in nearly 30 years there was a lack of harmony in the starting of the machinery of the Massachusetts legislature, due to the effort of the Democratic minority in the legislature to secure the speakership chair, held the last two years by Joseph Walker of Brookline, Republican.

The Republicans stopped a threatened party defection from Mr. Walker by deciding in party caucus that each member openly express his preference for speaker.

When the ballot was finally reached, Mr. Walker polled the full Republican vote and gained four Democratic votes, while one Republican voted for Lomasney, the decision on the speakership being as follows: Joseph Walker of Brookline, Republican, 130; Martin M. Lomasney of Boston, Democrat, 99; Charles F. McCarthy of Marlboro, Democrat, 4.

The Democrats, led by Mr. Lomasney, made a strenuous effort to obtain a secret ballot, in the belief that there was sufficient Republican insurgency to cause Mr. Walker's defeat.

With this contest out of the way, the Republicans completed the House organization without further opposition, while in the Senate Allen T. Treadway of Stockbridge was re-elected president by unanimous vote.

Governor Foss will be inaugurated to-day.

HOME RUN WITH THE BASES FULL.

Four American League Players Did Trick Last Season.

Four American league players became heroes by walling the sphere for four bases when the home runs were full to overflowing last season. The men who hit for the grand total were Norman Elberfeld of the Senators, Garland J. Stahl of the Red Sox, Donnie Bush of the Tigers and Leonard Tannehill of the White Sox.

Three of these noble wallows were made in Boston and one in Chicago. Elberfeld ripped off his valuable homer in the game played on April 20, which Washington won, 12 to 4. The next day Stahl cleaned up with a four-bagger, made off Groom of Washington, who purposely passed this Speaker, so he could get a chance at the home leader. On May 17 Bush of Detroit, who generally is a mark for left-handed twirlers, hit on one of Ray Collins' shots when the home runs were in a congested condition, sent the ball to remote center and was over the plate before Speaker and Wagner could return the sphere to Carrigan. That hit put the Tigers in front, 3 to 0, but they lost the game after all, 8 to 6.

The last of the four-bag blows struck when the bases were jammed was by Lee Tannehill of the White Sox vs. Donavan being on the rubber for the Jennings. The ball bounded between the pickets of a gate in the extreme left-hand corner of the Old Roman's new ballyard. That hit made the score 5 to 3, but in the next inning, the fifth, showing that lightning sometimes strikes twice in the same place, "Ty" Cobb lit on one of "Ed" Walsh's "spit" balls and drove the sphere to the same spot that Tannehill had picked out, winning the game for the Royal Bengals.

WON'T BE CANDIDATE.

Mayor Carpenter of Rutland Positively Declines to Run.

Rutland, Jan. 5.—Mayor Henry O. Carpenter will not accept a renomination to city executive. With election only eight weeks off speculation is heard as to who will hold the reins of the city government for the next two years and the name of Mr. Carpenter is most frequently mentioned. When told of the matter yesterday he stated very emphatically that he would not be a candidate for another term. He has already been asked by a good many citizens to stand for re-election but he told them that under no condition would he do so.

"I accepted a renomination after serving one year under the old charter because I wanted to see the new charter well launched. I believe that it is working out well and I am satisfied that it has already shown itself to be an improvement over the old one when well administered. In the last two years the city's indebtedness has been reduced to the best of my ability."

FOGEL HARD TO BUNCO.

Fred Clarke Could Not Trade Shortstop with Him.

Fred Clarke had considerable amusement at the expense of Horace Fogel, the president of the Philadelphia Nationals, at New York last week. "How will you trade shortstop?" Horace queried the manager of the Pirates, bravely keeping his face straight as he faced the question at the Philadelphia. "Well, I guess I'll have to think that over a bit," retorted Fogel, who immediately began to think that Hans Wagner must have broken a leg or had both arms cut off. Wagner would look pretty sweet in the Quaker line-up, but surely Clarke would not talk of trading him unless something was wrong with him. Finally, after thinking it over in silence, Fogel said: "No, Fred I guess I better keep Doulan and let you keep Wagner."

"Who said anything about letting Wagner go?" retorted Clarke. "Well, you

OPEN JOINTS, BROKEN KNEES, ETC.

The horse, more than any other animal, seems the easy victim of all sorts of injuries to the knee, sometimes proving transient and at others permanent, but always resulting from bruises, blows, injuries from fall and accident, kick, punctures, wire fences, speeding, overloading, etc. The injury may be just skin deep or extend to the bone. He gets it just the same. He may in a way be at fault by his own impatience or temper, or it may be more likely the fault of the caretaker, striking him over the knee with the pitchfork, because he shows too much hurry to get to the stall. In fact, the opportunities for knee injury to the horse are so many we lack room to enumerate them. They all, however, need prompt treatment and care to make sure of no worse results. A scratch on the knee may result in a serious case of broken knee, and we may have ulcer and supuration. In the simple, unimportant injuries lurk the possibility of great danger. Therefore for any simple bruise, make hot applications at earliest possible moment, bandages in cold water. Put on a little witch hazel or some soothing lotion, and in a day or two the trouble is likely passed. If the horse gets kicked or cut with wire fence, make the hot applications, bandage with a heating lotion or liniment. Don't put on a counter-irritant, as many do. Try and assist nature by removing the present inflammation. When the injury is deep seated and complicated, get a veterinary as soon as possible, but you can be of help to him. Wash the wound carefully with solution of carbolic, peroxide or some good disinfectant and bandage in a healing lotion or perhaps paint with collodion to stop the flow of blood. In all seeming simple sprains, bruises, cuts and sores, a few minutes and a few cents applied early will do more than hours and dollars after a day or two of delay.
